our numbers...

paint a picture of compassion, creativity and commitment. They are milestones on a journey that started 42 years ago, and they inspire us to imagine all the good JCA® can do in the next 42. Most of all, they make us smile, because in every number, we see a common denominator: the support of our generous donors.

3,421 jobseekers connected with employers at our 50+ Employment Expos

532 students enrolled in SeniorTech classes

121,790 miles driven by our fleet of ElderBuses

9,824 days of care provided by Adult Day Programs

631 at-risk youth tutored and mentored by Interages volunteers

3,124 seniors helped by Connect-A-Ride mobility specialists

2,906 visits per month, on average, to the JCA website

174 low-income seniors received on-the-job training

COMMUNITY INVESTMENT

Clients come first at JCA, with 88 cents of every dollar directed into programs, not overhead.

Data in this Annual Report are for our Fiscal Year 2015, from July 1, 2014 through June 30, 2015, and are unaudited. See our audited financial statements for a full accounting presented according to Generally Accepted Accounting Principles. Note that in the chart above, dollars are rounded to the nearest hundred and percentages are rounded to the nearest percentage point.

president's message

Dear Friend,

Last year, the youngest Baby Boomers – those born between 1946 and 1964 – turned 50, a harbinger of things to come.

Consider that in 1973, when a team of visionary volunteers founded the Jewish Council for Aging®, about 1 in 10 Americans was age 65 or older. Today, the proportion is 1 in 7. By 2030, it will be 1 in 5.

The D.C. region is no exception to these trends. For instance, in Montgomery County, where JCA is headquartered, the number of residents age 65+ in 2014 was just over 141,000. By 2030, it will top 220,000 as the percentage of those 65 and older rises from 13.7 percent of the population to 19 percent.

As you read this annual report, which looks at JCA's most recent fiscal year "by the numbers," it is important to keep these staggering population trends in mind. As a nation – and in our local communities and neighborhoods – how are we going to meet the needs of a graying population?

JCA provides access, answers and opportunities for older adults and family caregivers throughout Greater D.C. When you add up the impact, JCA programs and services touch the lives of more than 30,000 older adults each year.

Clearly, we must keep our eyes on the future, in an effort to anticipate and respond to the needs of a growing cadre of older adults. To that end, one of JCA's key accomplishments in 2015 was the Board's adoption of a strategic plan for 2016-2018, which you can view at AccessJCA.org/StrategicPlan.

As a nation and a community, we must think and act strategically and that means that we must invest in services and infrastructure to serve our aging population, as well as those who care for elders. Here at JCA, we will build on what we do well and find ways to expand proven programs to meet growing needs. At the same time, we have dedicated ourselves to finding new solutions, forging new collaborations and exploring new avenues.

Thank you for enabling us to do so.

With deep appreciation for your continued support,

Sheldon Grosberg

Transportation

For 42 years, JCA has helped local seniors travel throughout the area. While the needs have grown and evolved, one thing remains constant: transportation is critical to helping people grow old with dignity, independence and vitality.

- Our fleet of ElderBuses and team of specially trained drivers allowed scores of seniors get around. This included transporting adult day participants to JCA's Misler Center and Gorlitz Kensington Club and operating shuttles to five senior centers in Montgomery County. All told, our ElderBuses traveled 121,790 miles last year.
- The Connect-A-Ride Transportation Resource Center provided expert answers and education, with Information and Mobility Specialists responding to 10,929 inquiries and making 8,633 referrals to help seniors find safe, affordable rides.
- JCA also worked to shape the future of senior transportation. In December, we launched the third round of Getting All Around the County, a federally funded project to increase the engagement of Montgomery County seniors and adults with disabilities in transportation planning.
- Our volunteer driver programs, NV Rides (which is administered by the Jewish Community Center of Northern Virginia) and VillageRides, set the pace in a world where 90 percent of adults wish to stay in their homes as they age.

46,776 passenger trips provided by ElderBuses, a 30% increase over fiscal year 2014

3,124 callers assisted by Connect-A-Ride mobility specialists, a 20% increase over fiscal year 2014

643 rides provided to 187 low-income, disabled seniors by the Escorted Transportation Project

79 seniors and disabled adults empowered to use public transportation at RideSmart Travel Training Workshops

2,674 rides for 168 seniors provided by 143 volunteer drivers through NV Rides

1,264 rides for 98 seniors provided by 107 volunteer drivers through VillageRides

Senior Employment

72,384 hours of community service worth $608,045 provided by 174 on-the-job trainees at 54 host agencies

3,421 jobseekers age 50+ connected with 135 exhibitors at two 50+ Employment Expos in Virginia and Maryland

56 older adults received intensive job-search training and mentoring through The Career Gateway!

JCA is an older worker expert, and our employment programs address the of jobseekers who face a variety of challenges.

- The Senior Community Service Employment Program worked with 174 seniors from Montgomery and Frederick counties who were age 55 or older and living at or below 125 percent of the Federal poverty line. Thanks to the U.S. Department of Labor, Senior Services America and JCA's generous friends, these trainees were compensated at minimum wage while gaining job skills and performing valuable community service at 54 local charities and government agencies, including JCA.
- Our 50+ Employment Expo held in Tysons on May 25 gave 654 attendees the opportunity to connect with 34 employers and 16 training institutions and community resources.
- The 50+ Employment Expo in North Bethesda on June 1 was even larger, attracting 2,767 jobseekers, 47 employers and 38 community resources.
- The Career Gateway! – an innovative program that has graduated 305 participants since its founding in 2010 – provided 30+ hours of intensive, specialized training and mentoring to professionals age 50+ looking to re-enter the workforce.

Adult Day Programs

7,897 days of care provided to 100 vulnerable seniors at the Albert & Helen Misler Adult Day Center

1,927 member days provided to 44 older adults with early-stage memory loss at the Samuel Gorlitz Kensington Club

Care, compassion and community – that's what seniors and caregivers found at JCA's Misler Adult Day Center Center and Kensington Club, both of which are part of our Ruth & Hans Cahnmann Center for Supportive Services.

- 100 seniors received health monitoring and nursing at the Misler Center, which is a licensed, State-certified program for seniors dealing with cognitive or physical challenges (or both, as they often are). Participant days at Misler increased 16 percent from fiscal year 2014.
- The Gorlitz Kensington Club, our social day program for older adults with early-stage memory loss, served 44 members and laid the groundwork for a second program location at Ingleside at King Farm, an assisted living community in Rockville, Maryland.
- Our supportive services team facilitated a Caregiver Support Group for family members and a "Ninth Week Group" for participants who had previously completed the 8-week Early-Stage Dementia Support Group.
- Thanks to a grant from the Health Care Initiative Foundation, the Misler Center became a certified Music & Memory program, with staff trained to use iPods to create customized playlists for participants.

Intergenerational Programs

303 volunteers age 50+ donated 7,095 hours of skilled and compassionate volunteer service to Interages programs

631 at-risk students in Montgomery County Public Schools received mentoring and tutoring

365 youth volunteers befriended 308 vulnerable elders

Connecting the generations is an integral part of JCA's mission, and our Heyman Interages® Center, which was founded nearly three decades ago, is a recognized leader in intergenerational programming.

- JCA's Interages program became the second official chapter of a new Intergenerational Leadership Institute created and facilitated Dr. Matthew Kaplan of Penn State University.
- The Intergenerational Resource Center's quarterly e-newsletter went to more than 3,000 recipient, allowing professionals and organizations to learn from JCA's experience.

Information, Education & Outreach

1,622 hours of volunteer assistance provided by phone and email to those seeking answers through the Rose Benté Lee Senior HelpLine and Steven M. Reich HomeCare Resource Center

968 hours of instruction and 4,340 hours of service donated by SeniorTech volunteers at six training centers

Across the D.C. metro area, older adults and their families count on JCA for senior-friendly education and expert information about aging.

- Last year, 532 older adults learned computer and technology skills in our SeniorTech classes – which are taught to seniors by seniors.
- In collaboration with Washington Jewish Week, we published quarterly senior resources guides on timely topics for today's older adults, including hearing loss and using personal technology for better health.
- The AccessJCA print newsletter reached 7,000 households and our JCA Today online newsletter kept us connected to thousands of friends and supporters.
- Our redesigned website, which launched in October 2015, received an average of 2,906 visits a month.
- JCA's social media presence continued to grow, as we shared resources, promoted programs and connected with the community on Twitter, LinkedIn and Facebook. As of June 30, 2015, we had more than 1,000 Facebook followers.

Photo: Our third annual Senior Prom, organized by Interages and hosted by the Misler Center, was co-sponsored by BBYO (a membership organization for Jewish teens) and Charles E. Smith Life Communities. The prom is part of Good Deeds Day, an international day of community service led locally by The Jewish Federation of Greater Washington.

Philanthropy is the cornerstone of every JCA program.

Philanthropic support, which we describe in detail on pages 11-20, includes:

- Pledges and outright gifts of cash or securities to our annual fund, Campaign for the 21st Century and Productive Aging Award Dinner.
- The donations we received through the United Way, Combined Federal Campaign and Maryland Charity Campaign.
- Such non-cash gifts as donated program space, computers, furniture, and legal counsel as well as other essential volunteer support.
- Funds from Car-J, a vehicle donations program that simultaneously supports JCA, the Jewish Foundation for Group Homes and the Jewish Community Center of Greater Washington.

Grants and contracts supported many JCA programs, with some covering 80 percent or more of the programs' costs. Grants and contracts funded a wide variety of programs, including $724,434 from Senior Service America for the Senior Community Service Employment Program; $660,148 from the Montgomery County Recreation Department for the Senior Center Shuttle; $290,659 as an unrestricted allocation from The Jewish Federation of Greater Washington; an estimated $116,370 from the Fairfax Consolidated Community Funding Pool for the NV Rides Program; and $97,895 from the Maryland Department of Health & Mental Hygiene in support of the Misler Adult Day Center. We include grant givers in the roster on pages 14-20.

Program fees charged for computer training, adult day programs, certain transportation services and other services helped make ends meet, yet we never want such fees to be a barrier between those who need help and the help we provide. When fees presented a hardship, we utilized state and other public resources when we could and our own pool of Opportunity Grants (“scholarships,” donated by generous friends) when we could not.

The fee revenue we report also includes honoraria or billings from the professional consultation we provided through the National Center for Productive Aging® (a JCA program) and rental income from the Nonprofit Village, a charity that leases from us the top floor of our 31,000-square-foot headquarters office. As of June 30, 2015, 18 charities in addition to JCA had found a home in the JCA headquarters building.

Compassion Funds provided essential income. A $68,900 release from these endowed funds helped to provide program stability during the year. For details, see page 13.

Each gift, grant and fee is a building block to the work we do, and we are proactive about explaining them. In recognition of our commitment to transparency, GuideStar, a national library of charitable information, has named JCA a Gold Exchange Participant, its highest designation.

More than 500 friends of JCA attended our 2015 Productive Aging Award Dinner!

On April 26, 2015, JCA held its 22nd Annual Sylvia Blajwas Productive Aging Award Dinner. A record crowd joined us in celebrating this year’s honorees, Alan and Arlene Alda, along with Sylvia Greenberg, recipient of JCA’s 2015 Humanitarian Award.

This was JCA’s most successful dinner to date, and we thank our guests and event sponsors for their generous support!

Last year, JCA benefited from the support of more than 800 volunteers.

Every hour worked by a volunteer multiplies our impact, allowing us to do more good with every dollar, and our loyal volunteers are a powerful source of support throughout the year.

Volunteers are an integral part of the JCA team, often working side-by-side with staff on the front lines and behind the scenes to support programs and events. JCA volunteers teach courses, mentor jobseekers, tutor children, speak at community events, provide rides to elderly neighbors, design new programs – and much more! Our lay leaders (listed at left) are volunteers, too.

We thank our amazing volunteers for their support and dedication!

JCA is proud to be a founding member of the Create a Jewish Legacy Campaign, a program created and nurtured by The Jewish Federation of Greater Washington and its United Jewish Endowment Fund.

campaign donors

The Campaign for the 21st Century enabled us to purchase and renovate JCA's permanent home. Now it sustains that home, the Ann L. Bronfman Center, as well as our ongoing efforts to pay off (or pay down) its mortgage.

As of June 30, 2015, the Campaign had raised $5,514,636. The list below of beneficent donors continues to grow, as does the number of donor names that shine in our building's lobby. Those names welcome clients, volunteers, donors, staff and guests to our vibrant home – and they affirm for all that ours is a caring community.

endowment donors

The Compassion Funds, which are JCA's endowments, demonstrate the true meaning of caring and compassion to our children and grandchildren – and to future generations we may never meet. These Funds help to ensure JCA's viability and vitality today and tomorrow, while also providing stability in uncertain times.

On June 30, 2015, the Compassion Funds had an estimated total value of $1,885,174. In Fiscal Year 2015, they contributed $68,916 to support JCA's people and programs.

annual fund contributors

With admiration and deepest gratitude, we acknowledge the individuals and institutions supporting JCA with gifts or grants of $100 or more from July 1, 2014 through June 30, 2015. Listed below are those who made honor or memorial gifts, supported our Productive Aging Award Dinner, sent us corporate matching funds, provided proceeds from planned gifts, responded to our mailed appeals or awarded us grants.

These generous friends helped all seniors thrive, and we thank them for investing in JCA!
