

Imagine up-to-date skills in the hands of those with old-fashioned work ethics.

We know where to find people like that. They're adults age 55 and over who have been working part-time with the Senior Community Service Employment Program — SCSEP.

SCSEP helped them update their skills for today's work world. They already had the sense of loyalty and strong work ethics. Now, they're ready for full time employment.

Yes, they're older. But they just might change your misconceptions about older workers.

Contact us and we'll connect you with just the right person.

The Senior Community Service Program (SCSEP) is funded by a grant from the U.S. Department of Labor Employment and Training Administration. SCSEP is an equal opportunity program. Auxiliary aids and services are available upon request to individuals with disabilities.
